

Full Digital Sentry

For every action Digital Sentry monitors your system for specific events and then can perform a vast array of unique actions in response Use it to automatically cleanse internet history when closing a browser automate redundant computer tasks perform covert surveillance or even protect your sensitive data during unauthorized access or theft Monitor numerous system events Watch for such system events as waking from sleep program launches closes or switches file modifications incorrect password attempts mouse and keyboard input and many more Then perform any number of tasks like sending an email shutting down the computer starting a simulated selfdestruct pinging a web URL taking a web cam shot taking a screenshot playing a multimedia file speaking some text executing a shell script the list goes on Antitheft protection Curious whos been using your computer while you make a quick trip out of the room Turn on the incorrect password attempt monitor and have Digital Sentry take a picture of them with a web cam email it to you and then sending you a notification by text message to your cell phone Ideal for catching a thief in the event your laptop has been stolen Countless uses Alternatively use Digital Sentry to organize your life by performing a task such as speaking a line of text on an interval to remind you to get up from the computer and stretch or to perform a system backup In the case of a backup then even get Digital Sentry to do it for you by executing a shell script

Get Digital Sentry now:

[sociallocker]

[/sociallocker]